

Summary of Key Aspects Discussed

The meeting between Nathaniel Katugwa (NK Branding) and Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen (Lolartique, a brand identity designer) established a collaboration for branding projects, with an initial focus on rebranding NK Branding.

- Partnership and Commission: A partnership model was agreed upon for shared projects using a 70/30 profit split arrangement. Nathaniel Katugwa chose to partner with Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen due to the observed consistency and quality of their design work.
- Project Terms and Deposit: A policy of requiring a 50% upfront deposit before beginning any design work was implemented to ensure client commitment.
- Design Process and Timeline: Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen outlined a standard workflow starting with a client questionnaire to identify target audience, values, and vision, followed by a strategic mood board phase to establish a shared direction. Design timelines for new branding initiatives typically range from two weeks to one month. Even for smaller rebrands, thorough color research is conducted to ensure alignment with the brand's identity.
- NK Branding Rebrand: The rebranding of NK Branding was confirmed as the first collaboration. The scope for this initial project is focused on a new logo, typography, and color palette, rather than the extensive brand guidelines required for full-service packages.

-----Next Steps

- Nathaniel Katugwa is to send client meeting documents to Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen for review. Done
- Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen is to forward the recent brand presentation file to Nathaniel Katugwa for reference. Done
- Nathaniel Katugwa is to make the 50% upfront payment today for the personal NK Branding redesign project. Done
- Nathaniel Katugwa is to detail brand description, current color preferences, and preferred logo examples to Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen. Done
- Nathaniel Katugwa is to send the documents to Ahmed Omolola Tajudeen. Done